A REPORT TO THE ALUMNI, PARENTS AND FRIENDS OF CARDINAL MOONEY

Mooney Mourns Bishop Hughes

Bishop William A. Hughes, retired Bishop of Covington, KY, and founding principal of Cardinal Mooney High School died February 7th at Carmel Manor in Ft. Thomas, KY, where he had resided since 2004. Bishop Hughes was 91.

Bishop Hughes was ordained in 1946 and served ten years in parish work, seven at St. Charles and three at St. Joseph in Massillon. In 1956, Bishop Emmett Walsh chose him to oversee the construction of a new diocesan high school on the southside to be named after Edward Cardinal Mooney, former pastor of St. Patrick's parish. Bishop Hughes left a lasting impression on the student body that he was to lead. He was the father of the Mooney family always reminding the students that "we are for Cardinal Mooney and against no one." He took pride in the school, its achievements and its students. As principal, he initiated many of the traditions that are an integral part of the school today. Not only did he know every student by name, he knew their parents also. Even though he had left Youngstown to serve in Kentucky, he stayed in touch with the school, returning for reunions and anniversary celebrations. He always demonstrated a keen memory, quick wit, and a lasting love for the school he created.

Bishop Hughes served as bishop of Covington for sixteen years before retiring in 1995. His funeral was held at the Cathedral Basilica, with Metropolitan Archbishop Joseph Kurtz of Louisville as the principal celebrant. Most Rev. Robert N. Lynch, former General Secretary of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops and currently Bishop of the Diocese of St. Petersburg, Florida, gave the homily.

His leadership of the Covington Diocese, under the episcopal motto "To Serve, Not Be Served," was greatly influenced by the directions of the Second Vatican Council, which ended in 1965.

In Kentucky, he established the Diocesan Pro-Life Commission (now the Pro-Life Office), Diocesan Communications Office, the Development Office

CARDINAL MOONEY RELOCATION STUDY COMPLETED.

EXPECTED BEFORE SUMMER

Last fall, at the request of several alumni and with the approval of the Board of Directors of Cardinal Mooney High School, Bishop George Murry, S.J. a study was initiated to provide planning for Cardinal Mooney's future. The focus of the study was to consider whether a new building to house Cardinal Mooney High School should be constructed in southern Mahoning County or if the school should remain at the Erie St. location with funds invested to upgrade the existing facility. To that end, alumni and their parents, current students and their parents, future parents of the school, and faculty have been the focus of an intensive effort by Catholic School Management, a consulting firm, located in Connecticut.

Fr. Gerald DeLucia, President of Cardinal Mooney High School, has announced that Cardinal Mooney's Board has made a recommendation to Bishop Murry based on studies made by Catholic School Management of Connecticut. A final decision by the Bishop concerning the school's future: whether to update the existing structure or move the school to southern Mahoning is anticipated by the end of the current school year.

(now the Stewardship and Missions Office) which organized the first Diocesan Annual Appeal in 1984; the Cathedral Foundation, the Committee for Continuing Education of Clergy, and the Lay Personnel Pension Plan Administrative Commission, among other initiatives. In 1982, the Covington Diocese joined the Kentucky Council of Churches.

During his tenure, five new parishes and five new missions, most in eastern Kentucky, were established. In northern Kentucky, he re-established Our Savior Parish in Covington as a parish (1981) and created St. Timothy Parish, Union (1989).

In 1982, Bishop Hughes issued a pastoral statement entitled "A Vision of Church," to encourage more active participation of lay people in the Church. The pastoral letter stressed the importance of priests, religious and lay people working together. In 1985, Bishop Hughes issued a second pastoral letter, "Not Lords, But Servants." Its theme was the need for people of the Church to share responsibilities set forth in the Gospels. In 1992, Bishop Hughes, along with Kentucky's other Bishops, issued "Reverence for Life-The Pursuit of Justice."

Bishop Hughes was born in 1921 in Youngstown, Ohio. After preparing for the priesthood at seminaries in Baltimore and Cleveland, he was ordained in 1946. He served as assistant pastor at parishes in the Youngstown Diocese from 1946-1955 and also was a faculty member at two high schools.

"We commend our brother, Bishop William Hughes, to the loving care of our Heavenly Father," said Bishop Roger Foys, current Bishop of the Diocese of Covington. "After having served the Church as a priest for 66 years and a bishop for 38 years, 16 of those years as Bishop of Covington, he has now gone home to God."

The final phase of the campaign is a phonathon, managed by Judee Mileto and Associates of Grand Rapids, Michigan. Her firm has a demonstrated record of success in assisting parochial schools to reach their alumni donor base. Her personnel have worked at or for development programs at Catholic High Schools in the Detroit area and have demonstrated an affinity for positive contacts with alumni. BOARD OF DIRECTORS SPONSORS NEW MARKETING BROCHURE

The Marketing and Enrollment Committee of the Board of Directors of Cardinal Mooney has published a marketing brochure to promote the school. Initially, the committee designed the brochure to publicize the school's Open House during Catholic School's month, but the effort was so well received that a second printing was ordered to facilitate Mooney's overall marketing program. The brochures were distributed with parish bulletins in eleven parishes that are included in the school's feeder district.

The four color piece provides much information to answer frequently asked questions about student achievement, curriculum, block scheduling, faculty, National Merit recognition, and the advantages of enrolling a student at Cardinal Mooney.

The members of the Enrollment and Marketing Committee include Chris Amill, Dave Blasko, Joe Cassese, Pandora Fecko, Joe Kelty, and Jim Rendingell and is chaired by former Assistant Principal Jim Cooney.

Distinguished Alumni Awards To Dr. Kachmer And Dr. Diorio

Cardinal Mooney High School Alumni Association presented its 2013 Distinguished Alumni Awards at a prayer service held on Wednesday, January 30th. The event, which was held in the school auditorium, was followed by a luncheon for the award-ees and their guests. This year's recipients were Dr. Mary Lou Kachmer McGregor, a 1979 graduate of Cardinal Mooney and Dr. William S. Diorio, who graduated in 1960.

The Distinguished Alumni Awards are presented annually. The criterion requires that the awardee "demonstrate a continuing concern and dedication for others by embracing the Cardinal Mooney motto of Sanctity, Scholarship, and Discipline."

Dr. Diorio has been involved with Cardinal Mooney High School for fifty-seven years, first as a student, then as an alumnus, a parent, and finally, as a grandparent. He entered Cardinal Mooney in 1956 from St. Charles Elementary School. A participant in speech and debate and a member of the football and track teams, Dr. Diorio was also involved in student government and dramatics and was an altar server. After graduation in 1960, he did his undergraduate work at John Carroll University in Cleveland and Youngstown State University. Dr. Diorio received his professional training at the Ohio College of Podiatric Medicine, earning his doctorate degree in 1968. Dr. Diorio has been in private practice in Poland for forty-four years.

He is certified by the National Board of Podiatry Examiners and the Academy of Ambulatory Foot and Ankle Surgery. He is affiliated with St. Elizabeth's Hospital Medical Center, Valley Health Network Hospital and the Surgery Center of Canfield. In addition to his private practice, Dr. Diorio was Director of Podiatric Education for The Foot Clinic of Youngstown for twenty years, provided podiatric services to The Ohio State Penitentiary inmates from 1998 to 2003, and to clients of the Community Action Agency of Lisbon for nearly three years.

There have been three driving forces in Dr. Diorio's life: his family, his profession, and Cardinal Mooney High School. He has given generously of "his time, talent and treasure" to benefit his alma mater. He and his wife Charlotte are the parents of seven children, all Mooney graduates: Tina '86, Mary '88, Billy '92, Gina '94, Dominic '95, Cheryl '98 and Patty 2000. His strong faith and Catholic values led him to send his children to Catholic schools. Catholic education is a tradition that has continued in the Diorio family from generation to generation because of the example established by Dr. Diorio and followed by his children. In 2012, his oldest grandchild, Christine, graduated from Cardinal Mooney and his oldest grandson is currently a sophomore at his alma mater.

Dr. Diorio was one of the first members of the Cardinal Mooney Alumni Board when it was established thirty years ago. The framework established by that board still serves the school today providing leadership and direction for a variety of projects to benefit the school. He served repeatedly on both the Cardinal Challenge phonathon and on the Career Day committees. In addition, he has volunteered as team physician for both the football and soccer teams at Cardinal Mooney. He has supported the auction since its inception and regularly can be found at the annual bocce tournament.

In the letter nominating Dr. Diorio for this award, a member of his family noted that "he instilled in us the value of a Catholic education and of living our Catholic faith every day."

Dr. McGregor entered Cardinal Mooney in 1975 from Holy Family Elementary School. Her list of activities included: class officer, math team, National Honor Society, tennis team, Ski Club, and dramatics. She was inducted into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame in 2000.

Dr. McGregor earned her medical degree at the Northeastern Ohio Medical University in 1985. After interning at Riverside Methodist Hospital in Columbus, she completed an ophthalmology residency at Case-Western Reserve University in Cleveland. She completed a Pediatric Ophthalmology fellowship at Nationwide Children's Hospital in Columbus and another fellowship in London, England. Today, she is a member of the Department of Ophthalmology at Nationwide Children's Hospital in Columbus and a Clinical Assistant Professor of Ophthalmology at The Ohio State University College of Medicine.

Dr. McGregor is the Director of the Ophthalmology residency program at Nationwide Hospital; in 2007, she was elected president of the hospital's medical staff. Throughout her profes-

CAGERS WIN DISTRICT TITLE

Cardinal Mooney's basketball team, under the direction of first year mentor Brian Danilov, won the Division II district title downing the Salem Quakers 61-46. Salem finished 16-7 while the Cards (12-11) advanced to regional play in Canton. Mooney entered the season with a relatively inexperienced team, with only one returning starter.

The championship marked Mooney's first district title in basketball in fifteen years. While his team lacked experience going into the 2012-2013 season, coach Danilov, a veteran coach, had won six consecutive district titles and a state championship as coach of the Campbell Memorial Red Devils.

The decidedly underdog Cardinals won their district semifinal match against the top seeded Poland Bulldogs (21-3) 51-33 to advance to the district championship game. The Cardinal's season came to a close in the regional semi-finals when they fell to Warrensville Heights.

Cardinal Mooney's Basketball team won their first district title in fifteen years won they won Division II honors defeating Salem 61-46.

sional career, she has demonstrated a strong interest in caring for children with multiple handicaps and genetic syndromes.

Despite the pressures of her professional life, Dr. McGregor has always found time to give generously of her time for her parish and her children's schools. For ten years she was a volunteer for the children's liturgy program at Our Lady of Victory parish. While her children attended Trinity Catholic Elementary School, Dr. McGregor volunteered for fourteen years and co-founded the Legacy of Learning campaign, an annual fund that helps to support improvements to the school. When she wasn't working at the hospital or volunteering in the schools, Mary Lou donated her time as a coach for her three daughters' softball teams. She is the personification the old saying "if something needs to be done, ask a busy person." Time management is one of her greatest talents!

Dr. McGregor is married to Dr. John McGregor, a Clinical Associate Professor in Neurosurgery at The Ohio State University Hospital. They are the parents of four children: Daniel, a graduate of St. Charles Prep in Columbus (where Mary Lou found time to work as a cafeteria volunteer), Molly, Emma, and Maddie.

Cardinal Mooney President Rev. Gerald DeLucia noted "both Dr. Diorio and Dr. McGregor reflect the ideals of Cardinal Mooney in all that they have undertaken. They always find time to reach out to benefit those in need and particularly work to benefit the students of the schools where they have volunteered. Both Dr. Diorio and Dr. McGregor have been positive role models for their families and the students that they have touched in their entire communities. We are proud to name them as our Distinguished Alumni for 2013."

HONORS ENGLISH STUDENTS SPEARHEAD ANTI-TEXTING EFFORT

In recognition of the growing threat presented by those who text message while driving junior Honors English students created a campaign, "One Text, One Life," to alert the student body to the dangers of this practice and its consequences. The effort was initiated by junior Honors English teacher Miss Eileen Bacha and coordinated by her students. Heading the planning committee was Mackenzie Compton, aided by Monica Mattiussi, Molly McQuillan, McKenna Wininger, Michael Good and Precious Kato. Students made daily announcements, created posters, aired a video, and recruited and introduced speakers.

During two morning assemblies, for freshmen and sophomores, then juniors and seniors, students heard from three speakers. Ohio Highway Patrol Trooper Karen McElroy discussed the new law explaining why OHP could pull over young drivers. Judges Theresa Dellick and Diane Vettori gave a judicial perspective outlining the severe penalties for the first and second offenses of distracted driving.

The final speaker, Tina Yannsen emotionally related the tragic circumstances of her father's death. He was fatally injured on June 17, 2010 by a driver who was texting.

The campaign to sign up as many Mooney students and staff as possible filled out the rest of the week as junior Honors English students used lunch periods to get students to sign a pledge not to text and drive. Students received a decal for their cars.

Art students, under the direction of Mr. Sean Butler, created posters for display in the hallways. Students whose artistic talent was on display were Elise Jamison, Matt Pecchia, Rachel Rosa, Nick Bruno, Jake Pecchia, Donnie Duran, Hannah Estephan, Brian Whipkey, Natalie Kunce, Alexis Ohllin, Nichole Webber, Sarah DiPietro, Dante Spurio, Vito Penza, Nala Ford, Matt Paull, and Lucy Jones.

Special thanks to librarian Mrs. Debbie Scarnechia for her technical assistance and especially to principal Mr. John Young whose patience and guidance were essential to the success of this student-run project. Students plan to continue this project in the years to come, hoping to bring a simulator to the school next fall. They encourage parents and guardians to visit the website www.att.com to sign the parent pledge.

BUSINESS SERVICES DIRECTORY PLANNED FOR ALUMNI

Cardinal Mooney High School, at the urging of a number of Alumni, is planning to initiate a business services directory to be called "The Little Red & Gold Book". It would provide a handy reference of Cardinal Mooney Alumni and the business or professional services that they offer. Unlike other similar services on the Internet, The Little Red & Gold Book offers the additional assurance that you are dealing with someone within the Mooney Family. You can be assured that these businesses are reputable and, like you, they have demonstrated a unique tie to your alma mater. As the directory grows, a "feedback" or comment section will offer additional information and allow the elimination of anyone who does not demonstrate a positive performance record with their clients or customers.

The "The Little Red & Gold Book" would be available on the Cardinal Mooney website, listing not only the services provided, but also contact information. Those listed would be also be featured on page or pages in our football program. In addition, future Cardinal Mooney Newsletters would provide a listing of those providing services by category. For example, one issue could list all Mooney lawyers participating in the directory while another might list those furniture sellers, realtors or insurance professionals. A listing price of $100 a year or an Introductory Lifetime Listing rate of $500, until July 1, would be charged to be listed in the directory. Below is a coupon to use to provide information for your listing.
